

Cast the First Stone

Words and music by David Browder, Matthew Browder

v.1

Early in the morning Jesus came to teach a lesson
To the people in the temple so they gathered around to listen
Then along came scribes and Pharisees
Brought a woman to him taken in adultery
Afraid of dying she sat there crying
'Cause the law would be enforced
But with eyes of love Jesus looked up
Said, "Go and sin no more".

Chorus

He without sin cast the first stone
We've been pointing fingers far too long
If it wasn't for His mercy and grace
We would all end up in the same place
Restore them in the meekness of the Lord
Ain't that what believers are for
We can be sincerely wrong
Don't be the one to cast the first stone

Bridge

It's time we show compassion
For the souls that are in need
Take those stones clenched in your hand
Lay them at the Savior's feet

Repeat chorus
